Phoebe North is seeking a world standard publication contract for YA novel "The Monster's Daughter." She has chosen StyleMagic to help her through the final edits. StyleMagic is designed to help you develop and polish your entries in the novel competition. Phoebe had this to say about StyleMagic: "StyleMagic is a comprehensive software application that gives you what you need to succeed as a writer of YA fiction. The feature set of StyleMagic is so thorough, so carefully programmed, and so user friendly, I am surprised it has not been developed by a major software publisher years ago." Phoebe went on to say, "The additional elements of StyleMagic, such as the publication checklist and a list of editors and publishers who have indicated they would be interested in your work are priceless. In conclusion Phoebe said that StyleMagic helped her turn her first manuscript into a novel for publication.

StyleMagic was mentioned in the article: "Bookmark: Great Software" written by Writer's Digest Magazine - December 2011 issue. StyleMagic was featured as one of the top five writing software applications for Writers (also mentioned as a great adjunct to word processing).
